FORD

The Universal Car

Weak Links in a Strong Chain

That's just what imitation parts are when they become a part of your Ford car. They look strong enough, but the metal isn't there—the strong, durable Vanadium steel that goes into the Ford chassis and every Ford part. Ford parts are specially cast and heat-treated, each according to its use. Some require a hard, flint-like wearing surface, others need resiliency, and some need just "toughness."

Ford metallurgists have been studying these problems for sixteen years and know just how each unit should be made to endure a maximum of wear and tear. They know that best results can be obtained only by the use of special formulas for different parts, and that honest Ford parts wear from thirty-five to one hundred per cent longer than counterfeits.

We carry complete assortments of genuine Ford parts for both passenger cars and trucks. And our garage is equipped to give careful, prompt Ford service—from minor adjustments to complete overhauls. Drive in, it's better to be safe than sorry. Come to the Authorized Ford dealer for service.

LESSON FOR JULY 4

DAVID IN CAMP AND COURT.

LESSON TEXT—I Sam. 17:1-18:16.

GOLDEN TEXT—David behaved himself wisely in all his ways; and the Lord was with him.—I Sam. 18:14.

ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—I Sam. 19: 1-17; Ephes. 6:10-20.

PRIMARY TOPIC—David and the Giant.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Shepherd Boy Conquers a Giant.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Fighting the Good Fight.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC Overthrowing Modern Goliaths.

I. David in Camp (I Samuel, 17).

While the armies stood eyeing each other for battle the Philistines, having a warrior among them of great strength, sought to decide the war by a combat between two selected champions. The nation whose champion was slain was to be subject to the other.

1. The champions (vv. 4-37). (1) Goliath of the Philistines (vv. 4-11). Note his characteristics: (a) He was a giant (v. 4). Saul made no attempt to meet this giant. Even Jonathan, who had distinguished himself at Michmash (I Sam. 14), seems to have lacked in courage. (b) He was filled with conceit. His size, his panoply of war and his strength caused him to believe that no evil could befall him. (c) He was boastful. Likely his reputation reminded them of a former experience when Samson, Israel's giant, wrought such great mischief among them. (d) He was defiant. He openly defied the army of Israel—the people of the Most High. (e) He was scornful. He treated the Israelites with the utmost contempt.

(2) David the Israelite (vv. 13-37). In the providence of God, David was sent to the camp at a time to hear the boasting of this proud and contemptible Philistine. His three eldest brothers were in the army and his father sent him with some provisions for them as well as for the captain. While talking with his brothers Goliath made his appearance. The sight of Israel's cowardice and lack of zeal for God prompted David to offer his service. He was not a blind enthusiast who disregarded the use of means, but was careful to use means, and most particular as to what they should be. He put aside the untried armor of Saul, knowing that God's will for him was to use by faith that which he had thought insignificant.

2. The battle (vv. 38-49). When Goliath beheld David coming up against him he cursed him by his gods Dagon, Baal and Astarte, showing that it was not merely a battle between David and Goliath, but between the true God and false gods. David hastened to meet Goliath. A stone from his sling smote Goliath and he fell to the earth upon his face. David went forth in the name of the Lord of Hosts that all the earth might know that there was a God in Israel.

3. The victory (vv. 49-58). Goliath was killed and the Philistine army routed. This victory is a prophecy of a greater one when the devil, the defiant enemy of God, shall be broken and his army put to flight.

II. David in Court (18:1-16).

1. Saul jealous of David (vv. 1-9). David went unto battle with Goliath out of zeal for God and true religion, not for personal glory; but it turned out as always, that because he made God first, God honored him. "Him that honoreth me, I will honor." Upon David's return from the pursuit of the Philistines he was met by a triumphal chorus of women from all the cities of Israel, shouting praises unto him for his victory over their enemies. This was too much for Saul. This was but the occasion which fanned into a flame the passion which lingered in Saul's bosom.

2. Saul tries to kill David (vv. 10, 11). This is an example of the awful tragedy which may result if we harbor envy and jealousy. Saul had prepared a place in his heart for this evil spirit to dwell. When one gives himself up to the indulgence of his baser passions the devil finds a place in his heart to dwell.

3. David's wise conduct (vv. 12-16). Because Saul recognized that God had departed from him and that David must increase while he must decrease, he tried to get rid of David. He sent him from him and made him captain over his army. His envy even assumed a role of cunning and he offered his daughter to David as a reward for bravery in battle. Not that he cared for David, but that the Philistines might kill him instead of doing it with his own hands (v. 17). In spite of all this, David acts discreetly. He wins the favor of the people and is loved by the Lord. Despite Saul's intrigues David went from success to success. He was going upward while Saul was going downward. The issue in both cases was the result of a personal choice.

The Conqueror.

He who looks with unafraid eyes on life. He who walks patiently and with cheerful heart the unknown path, seeking with steadfast gaze the invisible goal. He who is not overborne by the past nor overawed by the future but takes the utmost from the present. He who is neither conquered by defeat nor defeated by victory, but lives in time for eternity. He who knows that men may kill the body that is all they can do, and commits himself unreservedly to the enterprise of God.—Rev. Percy T. Olton.

Mourning for Sin.

It is one thing to mourn for sin because it exposes us to hell, and another to mourn for it because it is an infinite evil; one thing to mourn for it because it is injurious to ourselves, and another to mourn for it because it is wrong and offensive to God. It is one thing to be terrified; another, to be humbled.—G. Spring.

Christ With the Disciples.

For forty days Christ was with the disciples talking with them of the things pertaining to the Kingdom of God. If we cannot believe that the Apostles deceived others, it seems (if possible) still more unlikely that they were the victims of deception.—Bishop Westcott.

Master of Circumstances.

It is the man or woman of faith, and hence of courage, who is the master of circumstances, and who makes his or her power felt in the world.

SCRAPS of HUMOR

SUPERIOR INTELLIGENCE.

"Why don't you teach that dog to do some tricks?"

"I have tried," replied the man who lacks energy. "The dog won't learn."

"Not enough intelligence?"

"Too much. I can see by the expression of his face that dog doesn't see any more sense in the tricks than I do."

Let's Go.

Flora—I see that several cities have forbidden the showing of Geisha Goldilock's latest vamp picture.

Fauna—Well, I'm not surprised. Her staff electrician told me that since they made the boudoir scene electricity had no more shocks for him!—Film Fun.

His Estate.

Mrs. Knagg—My husband is not making the children wait for his death to come into their inheritance from him.

Mrs. Nexdoor—That's nice. Will they get much?

Mrs. Knaggs—Nothing but obstinate and quarrelsome dispositions.

Sore Thing.

"Don't you think it is a frivolous life for women to make wax dolls of themselves?"

"I should be inclined to consider it more of a cereous proposition."

Slight Results.

"Did the flamboyant evangelist have any success in his mission of winning sinners?"

"Well, the meeting place was a converted building."

PERFECTLY SAFE.

"I say, Jack, do you think I can safely ask your cousin to marry me?"

"Sure! She told me she wouldn't marry you if there wasn't another man on earth."

A Man of Low Tone.

The bass the fair soprano wooed
But suddenly did leave her;
So she alleged when him she sued
He was a bass deceiver.

Its Condition.

"That cemetery strike was a trivial affair, wasn't it?"

"I hardly think so. Under any circumstances, it was bound to be a grave strike."

A Roast.

Artist (showing latest picture)—It's the best thing I ever did.

Critic—Oh, well, you mustn't let that discourage you.

Losing Experiment.

"Did you have a hard time at the hospital?"

"I should say I had. I lost weight they gave me a weigh the first thing and they even took my temperature."

Apropos.

Hampton—What are they going to call the first eugenic twins that were born in this town?

Rhodes—Eugene and Eugenie.

Her Redeeming Point.

"Your laundress seems to be a timid sort of woman."

"So she is, but she manages to put up a stiff front."

Different Repasts.

"At every meal my wife serves up a smile and a jest."

"The principal dish mine gives me is tongue served with whine sauce."

His Specialty.

There goes one of the most successful grafters in the city."

"Is he a politician?"

"No; he's a skin specialist."

Oh, Fudge.

"Omar wondered what the vintner bought one-half so precious as the stuff they sold."

"I know a man who outclasses them in value of products."

"As to how?"

"He sells sand in large quantities."

False Charge.

"The prisoner is accused of uttering forged notes."

"The charge refutes itself. The prisoner can't utter anything. He is deaf and dumb."

Something Nice.

"Edith said something nice about you the other day."

"That was sweet of her. What was it?"

"She said if she had your assurance with her brains she'd run for president."

Only Proof.

"Here's a man who accepted a leap-year proposal of marriage and then committed suicide."

"That proves only we women have killing ways."

Delusions Dispelled.

Sentimental Youth—Do you know, darling, I used to kiss the very stamps on the letters you sent me, because I knew they had touched your sweet lips!

Unsentimental Maid—Oh, Jack, and I used to damp them on dear old Fido's nose!—London Bystander.

A Puzzle.

"Candidates are so called because in Rome they wore white robes to show their political purity."

"Then how about the dark horses?"

BEST TREATMENT FOR CROP BOUND

Thin Muscular Walls of Organ Become Distended and Partially Paralyzed.

LARD OR SWEET OIL USEFUL

Operation May Become Necessary to Remove Contents of Crop—Feed Sparingly on Whole Grains Until Wound Heals.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The crop of the chicken sometimes becomes overloaded with feed, and its thin muscular walls become distended and partially paralyzed, so that the organ cannot be emptied, or the opening into the lower esophagus may become clogged with a feather, a straw, or some other substance which the bird has swallowed. The crop is greatly distended and the mass of feed is rather hard and firm. In both cases the symptoms are the same, and treatment should be conducted on the same principles, specialists say.

For treatment pour one-fourth to one-half ounce of melted lard or sweet oil down the throat and manipulate the contents of the crop with the hand in such a way as to tend to break up the mass. Unless the passage is closed the contents of the crop will usually pass away within a few hours. For a few days feed should be limited in quantity.

If the foregoing method is ineffectual and an operation becomes necessary, clip away the feathers from a part of the crop, and with a very sharp knife, lancet or razor make an incision about 1½ inches long through the skin and the wall of the crop. Then carefully remove the contents of the crop with the finger, the handle of a spoon or some other convenient object and wash out the crop with warm water. Pass the finger, well oiled, into the esophagus to see that there is no obstruction.

Sew up the wall of the crop first, then the outer skin, using white silk or linen thread and being careful not to sew the two membranes together. In a few days the wound will be healed. Feed sparingly on whole grains until the wound heals, and do not give any water for 24 hours.

ADAPTABILITY IS NECESSARY

Success Can Only Be Attained When Right Man Is in Right Place in Raising Chickens.

There is such a thing as a natural aptitude for different kinds of business. One farmer will grow poor on a rich farm, while another will grow rich on a poor farm. One poultryman will make money in fowls, and another will lose it. The one is adapted to his business, the other is the right man in the wrong place, or the wrong man in the right place. Success can be had only when the right man is in the right place.

SHALLOW CULTIVATION BEST

Results of Experiments Conducted at Illinois Station Show Its Advantages.

The Illinois station has conducted experiments that show the advantage of shallow cultivation of corn and also show that ordinary cultivation (about four times) gives practically the same results as frequent cultivation. Following are the results arrived at, showing the average yield in bushels for five years: Frequent cultivation, 68.6; ordinary cultivation, 68.5; Shallow cultivation, 71.5; deep cultivation, 65.8.

CARING FOR TOMATOES

The chief advantages of pruning and staking tomatoes are:

1. A larger number of plants can be set on the given area.
2. The tomatoes will ripen a little earlier when plants are pruned and staked.
3. The fruit is kept off the ground, is clean, easy to gather, and less likely to decay.
4. The quality of the fruit is usually better on plants that are pruned and staked.

Efficient Milk Strainers.

Of the different kinds of milk strainers in use on dairy farms there are but two, filter cloth and absorbent cotton, which are reasonably efficient in actually improving the commercial quality of milk.

JUNIOR FARMERS ARE MAKING BIG RECORDS

They Are Showing Growing Capacity for Achievement.

Typical of Many Boys and Girls in Different Sections of Country Is Irene Johnson of Minnesota—What She Has Done.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Boys and girls' club work, club leaders say, has capitalized one of the biggest assets of youth—ambition. In every neighborhood and county where club work is carried on there are boys and girls who are making records that are significant, for they show a growing capacity for achievement as well as because of the amounts actually produced. Typical of many young folks in all parts of the country is Irene Johnson of Blooming Prairie, Minn., whose garden club work may be summarized as follows:

1916—Won first prize in home town garden club, $3.

1917—Garden profits help buy Liberty bond; club garden champion for southern Minnesota; free trip to Minneapolis.

1918—Larger garden; half of proceeds spent for war savings stamps and half for clothing; club garden champion for southern Minnesota; free trip to Minneapolis.

1919—Gardened to beat the H. C. of L. Crops included one bushel of fine seed corn grown in garden, valued at $7; canned large quantities of vegetables; first prize on all vegetables exhibited at local "achievement" event; prizes at county fair for vegetables and canning; total expense $4.65, net returns $53.88.

TRICK OF PAINTER'S TRADE

Before Beginning Operations on Woodwork Apply Coat of Vaseline to the Hardware.

Many farmers do a great deal of their own painting, interior and exterior. An amateur painter cannot avoid some paint on the hardware, such as locks, hinges, handles, pulls, etc. This gives the finished job a botched appearance and partly spoils the effect of the new coat of paint.

Here is a little trick of the painter's trade that will serve the amateur painter well. Before beginning to paint the woodwork apply a coating of vaseline to the hardware; let the paint dry thoroughly; then wipe the vaseline off the metal parts and the paint will come off with it. This insures a neat, clean job of which the painter may be proud.

WATCH ALL EWES CAREFULLY

Precautions Must Be Taken That Udders Do Not Cake After Lambs Have Been Weaned.

After the lambs have been weaned, the ewes should be put on a dry feed for a day in order to stop the flow of milk, the udders should be watched carefully and milked when necessary. The future usefulness of the ewe may be ruined if her udder is allowed to cake.

Control Onion Smut.

Control onion smut by applying formaldehyde solution (one pint to 16 gallons, at the rate of 200 gallons per acre) by means of a drip attachment on the seeder.

Milk and butter are higher today in the cities than they ever were. There is no danger, either, of an over-stocked market.
